

Biblioteksdagarna 2021

The multifaceted library
10-11.5

Welcome to the very first, digital FSBF–conference!

We hope that you will enjoy the programme.

Monday 10.5

- 12:00 Opening day one
- 12:15 Linda Mannila and Annette Kronholm-Cederberg - The role of the libraries in writing and information competency
- 12:45 Stretching break with Jenny Nyström.
- 13:00 Susanne Ahlroth - "Where are we now and what do we want to become?" The libraries in a constantly changing world
- 13:30 Pargas library shares how they work with accessibility and anti-prejudice
- 14:00 A visit at Fyyri in Kirkkonummi.
- 15:00 Closing day one

Tuesday 11.5

- General assembly 2021 (only for members of FSBF) 09:00
- Opening day two 10:00
- Hans Ulrich Locher och Sandrine Thalmann - Multilingualism in Switzerland and the lived practice in the association's activities 10:15
- Samu Eeve - Principles for safer space at Helsinki City Library Oodi 10:45
- Stretching break with Jenny Nyström 11:15
- Announcement of Library book of the Year and conversation with the writer 11:30
- Closing remarks 12:00

Online

The conference is broadcasted via Youtube. There are also possibilities to ask questions during the conference.

The conference will be interpreted to Finnish Swedish sign language and a subtitled version (Swedish) of the conference will be available after the conference.

Fyyri

We are broadcasting from the new library house Fyyri in Kirkkonummi.

During the conference, you will be able to watch a virtual tour of the library.

@fsbf.fi

/finlands.svenska.biblioteksforening

Speakers

Foto: Sören Jonsson/SPT

FD Linda Mannila is an entrepreneur, researcher and writer who focuses on digitalization, education and arbetar societal development. She has a background in computer science, education and business, with extensive experience from training, research and project management.

Foto: Jeanette Östman/SPT

FD Annette Kronholm-Cederberg is the project manager of the Finnish Swedish projekt Skrivande skola (The writing school). She holds a doctorate in writing pedagogy and has a vast experience in this as a teacher and trainer.

Susanne Ahlroth works at the Regional State Administrative Agency and is responsible for library services in swedish speaking and bilingual towns. She will reflect on the role and position of libraries in a constantly changing world.

Sandrine Thalmann is responsible for the Bibliosuisse Continuing Education. She develops and manages the national Continuing Education program geared towards a professional audients working in Switzerland. Making libraries future-ready is important to Sandrine. Sandrine graduated in Information Sciences at the Haute École de Gestion (HEG) in Geneva.

Halo Locher has worked for library associations in Switzerland since 2007 and is the Director of the national library association Bibliosuisse. He is also President of the IFLA section Management of Library Associations and a member of the Governing Board of IFLA, the highest executive body of the world federation. He studied journalism, communication and law in Los Angeles, Lugano, Munich and Zurich and graduated with a doctorate in human rights from the University of Zurich

FOTO: Nadia Lund-Iivonen

Samu Eeve works at the Helsinki Central Library Oodi. Previously he has worked at libraries in Turku. Eeve mainly works with promoting literacy in adults and with accessibility, equity and Oodi's principles for safer space.

Foto: Jolanda Raitio

Pargas bibliotek Janina Svart and Satu Laukkanen from Pargas library will tell us how the library works with inclusion and accessibility and about their close partnership with the Red Cross.

Jenny Nyström is on her final year of her studies in physiotherapy and will have you up and moving during the conference. The videos will be available on our website and Youtube-channel after the conference.

Thank you to our sponsors!

Stiftelsen Emilie och Rudolf Gesellius fond

Svenska kulturfonden:

Undervisnings- och kulturministeriet

William Thuring's Stiftelse

FSBF